Carolina Clinic for Health & Wellness Welcomes New Nurse Practitioner

Jean Jourdan, NP-C, brings 8 years of nursing experience to the Carolina Clinic.

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, November 6, 2018 - The Carolina Clinic for Health & Wellness welcomes Jean Jourdan, NP-C, to their practice. Jourdan, from Jacksonville, Florida, joins the clinic with 8 years of nursing experience in long-term care, general medicine, surgical/orthopedic, and emergency nursing. Now, as a Nurse Practitioner (NP-C) Jourdan hopes to bring her experience to patients in the Greenville area.

When asked about why she would like to be in primary care, Jourdan responded, "There's such a need for primary care, you see all these patients without a primary care doctor who aren't managed well, mostly because they can't afford it." Jourdan looks forward to being a part of the solution to affordable care in Greenville, "As a Family Nurse Practitioner, I'm able to make a difference by providing affordable health care and treatments to a diverse range of patients."

Her varied experience (long-term care, general medicine, surgical/orthopedic, and emergency room nursing) allows her to customize plans of care, "You get to see a lot of variety. You get a good sense of knowing when something's wrong, and when something needs a higher level of care."

Jean Jourdan, NP-C, will be working with Dr. Jones in Family Practice and Dr. Surkin in Cardiology and Sleep Medicine.
